By better understanding their own and the behavior of others, group members can better cooperate, build more effective teams and create optimal conditions for increased sales and personal development. IPU Profile Analysis® is a simple tool used for describing behaviors in a pedagogical way by using different colors for different profiles.

Implementation

- 2, The analysis is performed on-line by all participants prior to the training.
- 3, The results of the analysis are reviewed by the group members individually together with the consultant. (Approx. 45-60 min per participant depending on the type of analysis).
- 4, Briefing together in the group.
- 5, Eventual group activity where the analysis, depending on the purpose, are used for common exercises. Should be carried out away from the office if possible.
- 6, Follow-up and evaluation with the client.

About the training SmartTeams with IPU Profile Analysis®

SmartTeams™ is a course for groups or project teams who work together. The aim is to strengthen cooperation and build effective teams so they can achieve team goals easier, faster and more enthusiastically. The training takes place during one day + one half day and is fully customized to suit the groups needs after an initial consultation. Prior to the actual training, all participants are required to take an IPU profile Analysis®.

The results of the analysis are reviewed by the group members individually together with the consultant before the scheduled day of training. The finished report is very comprehensive and specifies among other points in which specific areas the individual person contributes to the organization, tips for better communication, ideal working conditions, keys to motivation, advice to supervisors and suggests areas that can be developed.
